

Having studied information transmission and the best running of a democracy in my past four years at Stanford University, I could not be more sure htat the RCC rule change is a horrible idea.